5 bursary consent

You may be eligible for a bursary or scholarship from your university or college. Contact them to find out more about any bursaries or scholarships they may be offering.

Your university or college will ask for some information about you and your application* to decide if you are eligible for a non-repayable bursary or scholarship.

Your decision about bursary and scholarship data sharing will not affect your entitlement to any other financial support available.

We will automatically share your information with your university or college so they can work out if you are eligible for these awards.

If you don't want your details to be shared for this purpose, please tick this box

Most universities and colleges won't pay bursaries or scholarships if you don't give consent to share your information.

*To help your university or college administer these awards (i.e. to determine eligibility and entitlement to, and if relevant pay, a bursary or scholarship – 'bursary administration purposes') the Secretary of State or Student Loans Company will share some of the personal and course details you have given in connection with this application for student finance (whether on this form or at a later date). Information about your eligibility for student finance will also be shared.
